Now, What Do I Do?

Mud Isn't Scenic

Dust and mud are two problems in Lame Deer which can only be solved by paving and sidewalks — or, for less expensive alternatives, crushed rock. Money for $114,000 of paving and landscaping has been granted to improve grounds of the new Tribal buildings. This will give Lame Deer, center of reservation activity, an attractive focal point.

For years, the only paved street in Lame Deer was the three-block section of Highway 316, from the cattle guard near the Memorial church to the bridge at highway 215. This was commonly known as the "BIA road." It is now ripped and unsatisfactorily paved.

No local roads were built on Indian reservations anywhere in the country from 1900 to 1955. Paving of 316 through Lame Deer in recent years, was a decided improvement.

The only sidewalks in town were individually built at the BIA store, the Morning Star Cafe, the Tribal buildings, the Exxon station, Police station and the BIA building.

Lame Deer needs a network of sidewalks to link points of major commerce. The Post Office is an especially critical spot — when it's noisy, or icy, vehicles can't negotiate the crowded parking area; the mud is dreadful in wet weather, and the dust unpleasant in dry times.

Paving and sidewalks even if only crushed rock, would make for a cleaner, more attractive town. Its setting, in ponderosa-forested foothills, gives Lame Deer a scenic, unique character. With a little effort and civic management, it would be one of the most beautiful towns in the nation.

King Back in Lame Deer

Budolph "Charley" King, Jr. is according to special Officer back in Lame Deer as a police officer. He is a patrolman, after attending King did an outstanding job while studying in Salt Lake while studying that subject. As a patrol officer, he is now a patrol officer and a patrol officer.

Reports from there, general police patrol.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,
As a former member of the "Antisocials" staff, I would like to express my appreciation for the first two issues of "A'tome." The first two issues are interesting and well received, and the paper itself is attractive. I wish you good luck in the future.

I am enclosing a small contribution, I hope you will be able to attract enough advertising to keep the paper going. Perhaps once your first two issues have been so successful, you might consider other fund-raising efforts and advertisements as well. You deserve this support.

Yours,
Terry Stroud
P.S. As you have indicated, the tribal building is the last issue. Perhaps some of the money of it should be made in the next issue. There is indeed a new L.A.T. building in Lame Deer, and it might be worth picturing, because many do not know where it is. It is not, however, the tribal building.

The Story of My Life

Along the great highway of life, I have trodden many a weary mile. I came first to Hopkings Town, then remained only a short while. I journeyed to Sorrow City and was detained for many years—held captive in Heartbreak Prison Surrounded by rivers of tears. As I travel down Memory Lane, Over Regret Hill, past Hospital Road, I pray I'll reach the Valley of Peace before my journey comes to an end.

Story and Photos

By Valdo Patten

All reservation towns will have regular G.E.D. (high school equivalency) programs next year, if the current proposal is accepted.

The new program was started last September at the Northern Cheyenne Reservation.

Part C of the Indian Education Act, it provided for two G.E.D. coordinators, one on the Cheyenne and one on the Crow Reservations.

However, it provided no money with which to hire tutors, classes in Bunkay, Ashland, and Bismarck suffered because of difficulties with volunteer tutors.

In Lame Deer, G.E.D. classes are held Monday through Thursday from 7 a.m. to 9 a.m. in the evening.

Classes are held Monday and Tuesday evenings from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. in the Neighborhood Youth Center.

Lame Deer is the official G.E.D. testing center for the Northern Plains. For a fee of $4, a person can take the official five-subject, 18-hour test, repeated in a second session in three hours.

See For Yourself

How Children Learn

By Valdo Patten

How are your children taught in school? One way to find out is to visit an actual teaching session yourself — that is, if you can get off work during the day to make such a visit.

Recently, at the St. Labre primary center, Follow Through held a special class session at 5:46 p.m. so parents could see teachers and children going through a real class period. About 40 parents arrived for the evening session — and later, some 100 people shared supper together.

This introductory and joyful evening provided an excellent way for parents to get a peep at methodology and materials used in the Follow Through program.

The Ashland Follow Through Parent Advisory Committee (PAC) organized the open house and supper.

Ronald Baskette, Tribal and Lame Deer order clerks are now needed in what used to be the parent's quarters at the Municipal Center. The Chief of Police, Tribal Police are all located where they always have been. During the past two months there has been numerous thefts of Garbage from the Follow Through Agency Special Officer would like to impress upon the public that these items be closely watched or kept under lock and key during working hours or while they are at work.
